The following explain in brief why v for credit card / debit card

- PayPal is the most popular online p processors in the world.
- PayPal encrypts your sensitive financial information so the only person who can see it is you.
- When you sign up for PayPal, PayPal ask you to link your bank account, debit card, or credit card so that your payments can be funded. This information is never shared with retailers. In fact, it's securely protected by data encryption technology, reducing the risk of online fraud and identity theft.
- Your PayPal account is protected by the latest anti-fraud technology and a dedicated team of specialists working round-the-clock against the bad guys. PayPal constantly monitor PayPal transactions for suspicious activity and alert their customers as soon as a problem is detected.
